

• OV Private River Training Information

Outdoor Ventures is dedicated to teaching you advanced boating skills and minimum risk travel on the water

Our Instructors are highly experienced river people who want you to have the opportunity to learn solid boating practices.

The skills you learn with Outdoor Ventures will form a foundation of good habits and techniques that can keep you safe while on the river.

We specialize in small group and 'one on one' instruction, which allow you to learn efficiently and thoroughly.

Whether you are going to be fishing your favorite steelhead stream, taking your family on their first backcountry trip, or just bought a brand new boat and need some pointers before you go out (and put that soccer ball size dent in the front chine), Outdoor Ventures is confident you will benefit from this training.

Our training syllabus is performance based and designed to accommodate any level of boating skill you wish to acquire. You may learn on class N through III river waters.

Learn to row your drift boat or inflatable with confidence and fluidity

We can train you in a variety of river craft ranging from inflatable paddle boats, gear boats, catarafts, drift boats, whitewater dories and even inflatable kayaks. The use of your own boat also is recommended, since that is the one you will be using on the water.

Outdoor Ventures is conveniently based out of the McKenzie River valley in Oregon near Eugene. This location is near the McKenzie, Willamette, Santiam, Umpqua and Rogue River systems and many coastal streams. These rivers have an excellent variety of characteristics and difficulty to fulfill your training curriculum.
